NEVER AVOID DEALING WITH YOUR ISSUES...

When one avoids dealing with issues their whole lives... they lack the coping skills and then ones life becomes a living nightmare... it is at this point that ones turns to many various habits and addictions... as an attempt to temporarily divert ones attention away from the obvious truth! ~ The truth of how scared and miserable one has found themselves. ~ One does anything humanly possible, to distract ones self, from the truth of denial... Some will be physically violent with others... some emotionally abusive with others.. some mentally abusive / mind games with others!

They do not care whom they hurt in the process of trying to cover up...or deny their own madness. ~ They always say they truly do really care! ~ But we all know that is pure non-sense! For if one truly cares about another?... They will instinctively develop, or already have something called "self respect / self restraint / empathy" and resist harming another! ~ Its a natural instinct when one truly cares! ~ So words are meaningless... without the actions to follow! ~ The day and times of emotional and mental tricky... are over!

The truth cares not about ones one ego delusions or insecurities... and the truth is coming like and unstoppable freight train! - It is a train called truth, integrity, and glory! Its honking its horns and many can now hear it! ~ Its a free train ride to paradise... however you will have to leave you lower ego behind... no worries for it is only non-sense that does no longer serves you any way! :)

THE TRUTH IS ALWAYS OBVIOUS...

The only reason why the truth cannot be seen? – Is because we are denying the obvious truth, that is always laying bare directly in front of us & within ourselves. - Not one being in creation has went insane by running towards the truth. Only by running away from the truth, avoiding the truth, denying the truth, or attacking the truth, can one become unbalanced, or go insane. – All mental insanity, is due to denying the truth.

If you do not immediately observe the truth right here & now! Then it is only because you already have... preconceived notions set in place... as to what you believe the truth to be! How truth should look! ~ And where it should come from! Thus you have obscured the immediate truth of reality, with your preconceived notions!

How can one expect to extract any truth... from any situation!?
If one already thinks they know what the truth is!? ~ That is unless one does not care...for the truth to begin with!
These type of souls... who are not interest in the truth?
Are only interested in being right!

Not only are some some souls not interest in the truth...
However many are longing to be a part of a group! - They wish to be part of a group... because one has lost or not yet discovered one's own true unique identity! - Thus they are fearful, and just end up attaching to, and believing, what those around them believe... without giving their own beliefs an honest examination, to verify if they are even logical beliefs and ideas to begin with... ~ The only way that analyzation is productive?... Is if it used to peel away untruths! - The desire to peel aways untruths ... must be fueled by the genuine intention, of true peace, unconditional love, and unlimited magical freedom!

YOUR MIND IS QUIET WHEN YOU HAVE NO FEARS...

You will have no fear... when you discover what you really are...
In order to find out what you really are? - you must have an interest in doing so... Not merely a mild interest... not a curiosity! - It must be your # 1 interest!

For if it is not your #1 interest? - Then you getting to the truth of what you are... will not be achieved! - For it will not be of 100% interest to you... and will continue to have fears... and constant inner battles and conflicts... because you don't know yourself...and what makes you tick... nor will you be able to discern between truth and illusion!

One must outwit all obstacles and illusions... in ones own emotions and mind...that attempt to distract one from being fully truthful with ones-self! ~ One must outwit all obstacles and illusions that persuade you... not to get to fully know and explore yourself! ~ For your true self is the key to true paradise and immortality! ~ This is the key to all that is true, loving, wise, and infinite!

It takes only, but a moment... to face the illusion of your fears! However If you choose not to face them? Then you will endure a life time of worrying and suffering... So the real question is... Do you want to free your heart, mind, and soul? - Or stay imprisoned within yourself?... Always cowering away from any hint of emotional discomfort? For when we avoid healing legitimate pain, due to our own self generated assumptions, illusions, & denials? - Then we become spiritual ill & internally corrupted... which manifests as mental, emotional, and physical illness.

DO YOU WANT TO YOUR MASTER LIFE / REALITY?

- 1.) Be 100% honest with yourself!
- 2.) Be 100% genuine with others!
- 3.) Realize how destructive worrying is... and immediate cease worrying about anything.
- 4.) Instead of worrying... pay close attention to the constantly changing now moment... with no judgment! So you can see how each moment works.... And how life itself operates! - Then you will be the master of each situation.

But you will ask yourself! - “ How do I do these 4 steps? ”

There is no how!... There is only your intent!

Do not concern yourself with the how's.

Only concern yourself with your intent.

For Your True Intent...

Will Automatically Take Care Of All Of The Hows!
